Naples, November 9.

THE Spaniſh Fleet under the command of the Marquis d'Aquilar, continue ſtill here, but we are told they will ſail in few days, having orders from Madrid to return to Cadiz. On Sunday laſt arrived here the Spaniſh Galleys, twenty ſix in number, they Saluted the Admiral of the Fleet and the Caſtles, and received the like from them. The Banditi, notwithſtanding all the care our Vice Roy takes to ſuppreſs them, are ſtill very numerous, and troubleſome to the Country, from whence come frequent complaints of their Inſolencies and Robberies. The Marquis de Liche our Vice-Roy, has given orders for the fortifying ſeveral places towards the Sea. He has reſolved to augment the old Regiments of Milan and Catalonia, and for that purpoſe Levies are making.

Rome, November 13. On Sunday laſt arrived here an Extraordinary Courier from Lintz, with Letters from the Emperor to the Pope, giving an account of the taking of Gran by the Imperial Army under the command of the Duke of Lorrain; The Pope received the news with a great deal of joy; and the next day gave orders for the remitting a conſiderable ſum of money to his Nuncio at Lintz, to be employed in the preparations that are to be made againſt the next Campagne. He hath likewiſe ſent 30000 Crowns to the Vice-Roy of Croatia, who has undertaken to block up Canifia this Winter.

Genoua, November 14. From Cadiz we have advice that three Men of War were arrived there from Biſcaye, two whereof are to go out with the Fleet deſigned for New Spain. The Spaniſh Galleys are arrived at Naples, where they are to Winter: And the Marquis d'Aquilar has orders to return with the Armada to Cadiz. The Count de Melgar, Governor of Milan, continues to viſit the Frontier places of that State.

Venice, November 21. We have Letters from Conſtantinople which inform us, that an Ambaſſador was arrived there from the Czars of Moſcovy, that he had had an Audience of the Caimacan, and had demanded the reſtitution of Czecberin and ſeveral other places, in the ſame condition they were in when taken by the Turks, and that all the anſwer the Caimacan had given him was, That he would acquaint the Grand Signior therewith. The Letters add that the Grand Signior was returned from Belgrade to Andrinople, being reſolved to employ the whole Force of his Empire for the repairing the diſhonour which his Arms have received in this laſt Campagne, and that for that purpoſe ſtrict orders have been ſent to the Governors of the ſeveral Provinces to ſend what Men and Proviſions they can to the Army, which it's given out the Grand Signior will command in Perſon. On Wedneſday laſt arrived here a Saique from Zara, the Maſter whereof reports that the People of Albania have killed ſeveral Turkiſh Officers that were ſent thither to raiſe men for the War in Hungary. The Morlaques continue their Incurſions and Depredations upon the Turks.

Stockholm, November 14. The Moſcovite Ambaſſadors part d from hence the laſt week, and embarked on a Merchant Ship which the Admiralty here had provided for the tranſporting them to Reuel. Here is arrived an Envoy from the King of Poland; he has had his publick Audience; and from hence he is to go to Denmark, and ſeveral other Courts on the ſame Errand he comes hither upon, which is, to demand aſſiſtance againſt the Turks. We have an account that one of this Kings Ships, carrying 64 Guns, having ſtruck againſt a Rock as ſhe was entring into the Harbour of Carelſcroon, immediately ſunk, but the men were ſaved. The King is gone to Coningſor, where he intends to paſs a fortnight or three weeks.

Vienna, November 21. Yeſterday arrived here the Count d'Auerſperg from Hungary, but made no ſtay in this place, continuing his journey with great diligence for Lintz. He reported that the Imperialiſts have taken Zerſebin, Zabrac, and two other ſmall places; and that it is not to be doubted but Caſchaw and Eſperies will receive Imperial Gariſons. We had a very ſtrong report here the laſt week, that an Accommodation was concluded with Count Teckeley, but it proves groundleſs. The freſheſt Letters we have from Hungary tell us, that Count Teckeley has demanded a very large Country for Winter-quarters for his Troops, though it's ſaid they are not above 5 or 6000 men, but that it was not believed it would be granted him, and that there is great reaſon to ſuſpect he holds a ſecret correſpondence with the Grand Vifier at the ſame time that he ſeems deſirous to make his peace with the Emperor, his aim being to amuſe both ſides and gain time. The Turks make great preparations againſt Spring, and we are told that the Grand Signior has commanded the third man to be raiſed throughout his Dominions.

Lintz, November 27. Many of the General Officers are come hither from the Army, and the Duke of Lorrain is every day expected, the Troops being it's believed, by this time, in their Winter-quarters. We are aſſured that Commiſſions will be given out very ſpeedily for the making new Levies, and that the moneys lately remitted hither from Rome, will be employed for that ſervice, the Emperor reſolving to have 80000 men in the Field the next Spring beſides the Forces of the King of Poland and of the Empire. The Elector of Bavaria will encreaſe his Troops to 20000 men. The Elector of Saxony we are told, will likewiſe add ſeveral new
